About The Dutch House

The Dutch House is a historic mansion which has been restored into an exquisite property - it's an elegant and tranquil retreat. It is the sister property of the highly acclaimed Sun House, which was built in the 1860's and has been extensively and tastefully restored as a luxurious boutique hotel. It overlooks the harbour of Galle, the fortified south-coast town that is fast gaining a reputation as a haven for the discerning traveller.

The Suites

The main villa is extremely comfortable, with a luxury sitting room and library extension. The veranda leads you around the extensive lawn to each of the 4 luxury suites.

There are 4 very spacious and stylish double suites with sumptuous, emperor-size antique four-poster beds, overhead fans (the design of the building and its hilltop location, which catches the cool sea breeze, means that air-conditioning is not necessary). The attached bathrooms are fitted with traditional bathtubs. The 'Ballroom' is the largest and most elegant suite. The services of a private maid and butler service are standard throughout Doornberg.

Fine Dining

The Dutch House takes pride in its restaurant, with guests invited to discuss their preferences each day from an imaginative range of freshly-cooked produce. Alternatively, dinner can be taken at the Sun House, which is the sister property next door which has a great fusion menu. Meals can be taken either in the dining room, on one of the verandahs, or in the garden under the mango tree.
